

DECIDING YOUR DESTINATION 24TH Feb 2021

During the end of January and month of February, I have received a number of significant dreams and visions. However, it is difficult to know where to start when sharing them as the Lord tends to show a central piece of revelation and then add connecting pieces round it, almost like starting a patchwork quilt with the central piece and sewing relevant pieces round it in a radiating pattern. However, when one writes, one can only communicate in a linear fashion, so where to begin has been my question! As I have been pondering what would make the most sense to a reader, the Lord kindly took a thread, attached it to what was to be the central piece of revelation and then He stitched it in a spiral fashion through several dreams and visions and said, "Do it like this!". So I am going to begin with a dream I had on 31st January. This is what the Lord has indicated is the central piece of the patchwork; the point of revelation to which all the surrounding revelations stem from and connect to.

In the dream, I was looking at a woman who was an instructor of sorts. She was standing in front of a screen that functioned like a touch screen, and she said, "This is where you are going." Then she took a giant magnifying glass and laid it on top of a map she was scrolling through with her finger. She started on a coastland with multiple small islands and moved very fast up the coast and inland. I could see no detail except the difference between sea and land, and the colour of the land was sandy, like a desert. The direction of the search was not logical or traceable. She kind of rambled around the map, backwards and forwards and round, as if she was looking for a particular spot but was not following any visible road or marked out way. Then she suddenly zoomed in closer and I saw the top part of a bell tower and the name 'Avatah' and she quickly said in a very firm tone, "No, not here!" and moved away. When I saw the name, I knew somehow it was really 'Atavar' but the 'H' had been added at the end as a coded message which the Hebrew letter Hey contained. I will explain more later.

The search continued until, finally, she zoomed in towards a place which seemed to be in the middle of nowhere. I could see no detail except a round dot on the map indicating a place and the name 'Avira' written next to it. I could hear that all the people there were talking about the endtimes. Then the dream ended. It is the glory of God to conceal a thing and the glory of kings to search it out, so I began my search into the meaning of this journey I had been instructed in. I was very aware that it is not only my journey but that of all who are the Bride of Christ.

Avatah, the Bel(l) Tower

Firstly, let's look at the place I was definitely not to head towards as my destination. Atavar means 'the descent of a deity to the earth in an incarnate form or some manifest shape; the manifestation of a Hindu god'. Of course we all know which atavar is about to make itself manifest! In Israel, there has been a call for prayer in the last few days to call for their Messiah to come. Unfortunately, the one who will appear and claim to be him will be a counterfeit.

So this place Atavah represents the dwelling place of this descending one who claims to be God. The name was shown to me with the Hebrew letter Hey superimposed over the 'r'. Hey represents the divine breath, revelation and light. It is the breath of God that contains creative power and this descending one is installing himself in the place of the Creator. The fact that Hey was superimposed upon the word 'avatar' signifies that this incarnation or manifestation of a god descending claims to bring with it the breath of the God of Light. Of course we know that this really speaks of the one who appears instead of Christ; the antichrist. He is the one who will claim to be the true God, and 2 Cor 11:3 tells us that satan masquerades as an angel of light. The actual Greek word translated 'masquerades' actually means 'transformed, disguised'. So the addition of Hey represents the disguise and the hiding of the 'r'. The Hebrew letter 'resh' means 'head, leader'. So the hiding of the resh signifies the cloaking of the true mind behind what is being manifested. He has definitely come to lead and control, but represents himself as the true God, using his false light.

On pondering this 'bell' tower which depicted this town Atavah on the map, the Spirit showed me that it was a coded representation of the tower built to the god Bel. I just want to share some background information concerning this: The name of the God of Babylon was Bel which is a form of Ba'al meaning lord or master. Another name was Merodach, who was a Babylonian "God of War." (Jer. 50:2). In the Hebrew language the name was Baal. He was the sun-god consort Ashtoreth or Ishtar or Easter for which the festival Easter is named. Bel was considered the chief god among the many idols. Nimrod, who initiated the building of the tower of Babel, strengthened his power over his subjects by making himself the high priest of Bel, or Baal, and of Merodach. Babel means 'the gate of god,' but it can also mean "son of Bel." Perhaps Nimrod named the city of Babel after himself, as the son of Bel (Cush). Nimrod's followers assigned him many mythical names that implicate works achieved only by the true Son of God, Jesus Christ. These counterfeit names deceptively attracted multitudes to worship Nimrod. People north of Mesopotamia commonly knew him as Ninus, "the son." Greeks deified Nimrod as the god, Adonis. Adonai means "The Lord." Greeks also knew Nimrod as Dionysus, "the sin bearer," and gave homage to him as Zeus, 'the savior, and Mithras, "the mediator." The Babylonians worshipped Nimrod as El-Bar, or "god, the son." Archeologists in the ancient city of Nineveh have unearthed sculptures inscribed with this name. Nimrod appropriated the dragon and the snake as his personal emblems. Nimrod's Babylonian followers worshipped him as Marduk – the god of war and fortresses. Nimrod became the Roman god Bacchus, which means, 'the son of Cush.' Bacchus was god of wine and revelry. Kronos was also the Roman god Saturn, who devoured his own sons as soon as they were born. Marduk was also the Roman god Kronos, whose name means, 'the horned one.' Ancient artists often depicted Nimrod wearing a crown of bullhorns.

So, with all that historical information, it is clear that this atavar manifests in the form of a city shaped like a bell (Bel) tower and is identified as housing the antichrist; a reincarnation of Nimrod. Nimrod built the first Bel tower and now another one is being built, but in order for it to appear as a true counterfeit of the city God builds, it is being built of people—not living stones filled with the Spirit of Christ, but souls which have the spirit of antichrist set up in their body, their temple. I am so thankful that the woman in the dream said, "No, not here!" in such an emphatic tone. This is not where God wants His Bride to end up; this is NOT your destination; your appointed end! You do not want to be marked as a brick for this tower—it's held together by slime!

Gen 11:3 And they said one to another, Come, let us make bricks and burn them thoroughly. So they had brick for stone, and slime (bitumen) for mortar.

Gen 11:4 And they said, Come, let us build us a city and a tower whose top reaches into the sky, and let us make a name for ourselves, lest we be scattered over the whole earth.

It is no coincidence that Amazon has released the plan for its new headquarters, which looks exactly like the tower of Babel. They claim it represents a DNA spiral but there is no evidence of two strands of DNA. The company stated that ' the building itself is deemed "alternative work space" in contrast to the more traditional office space in the three 22-story buildings that will surround the helix, which will be slightly taller than the other three buildings.' There are 22 letters in the Hebrew alphabet and the significance of 3 such building surrounding this edifice speaks to me of the counterfeiting of our 3-in-1 God. 3×22 comes to 66, with the final 6 depicted by the spiralling tower or ziggurat in the midst of them. The design of the tower is intended to be 350 feet high, exactly 50 feet taller than the original Tower of Babel. In other words, they intend to accomplish what they set out to do and have the god of the underworld in their midst.

There are also groves of trees planted all the way up this spiralling edifice. Groves are connected to pagan worship of Asherah and Baal (Bel) in the Bible. In fact, the Hebrew word for 'grove' is 'asherah'. God's explicit instruction to His people going into the Promised Land was to destroy such places:

Deu 12:2 Ye shall utterly destroy all the places, wherein the nations which ye shall possess served their gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree: Deu 12:3 And ye shall overthrow their altars, and break their pillars, and burn their groves with fire; and ye shall hew down the graven images of their gods, and destroy the names of them out of that place.

One of the reasons Bezos chose the name 'Amazon' is so that it would appear at the top of search engine lists and that, like the Amazon river, it would be the biggest company on earth. I find these facts significant as my dream depicted a search for a destination and the one which popped up first, when searching, was NOT the one to move toward.

Heading for Avira

The finding of the place Avira on the map was convoluted to say the least and the fact that the map had no markers, highways, signposts or landmarks to get there speaks of a journey that the Spirit is deliberately keeping secret to protect the ones travelling there. It is only by the daily leading of the Spirit of Truth that we will come to this place. Avira is the name of a computer security software company mainly known for their antivirus software, Avira Free Security. Therefore this place is one where there is security and safety. The word Avira's origin is Hebrew. Avira is a derivative of the name Avera. The word comes from the Hebrew root ayin-bet-resch, meaning 'to pass or cross over a line or a boundary' with the implied meaning of transgressing from a moral boundary. That sounds awful, hardly the destination one would choose!—that is until we remember that Jesus was counted among the transgressors.

Isa 53:12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

So what is the place Avira (Avera) connected to? It is the gathering of those who have fellowshiped in His sufferings, shared in His shame and been conformed to His death, that they may partake of the power of the resurrection, as Paul says —'even while still in the body':

Php 3:8 ...For His sake I have lost everything and consider it all to be mere rubbish (refuse, dregs), in order that I may win Christ, Php 3:9 And that I may [actually] be found and known as in Him, not having any [self-achieved] righteousness that can be called my own, based on my obedience to the Law's demands, but possessing that [genuine righteousness] which comes through faith in Christ, the right standing with God, which comes from God by [saving] faith. Php 3:10 [For my determined purpose is] that I may know Him [that I may progressively become more deeply and intimately acquainted with Him, perceiving and recognizing and understanding the wonders of His Person more strongly and more clearly], and that I may in that same way come to know the power outflowing from His resurrection, and that I may so share His sufferings as to be continually transformed [in spirit into His likeness even] to His death,

[in the hope] Php 3:11 That if possible I may attain to the [spiritual and moral] resurrection [that lifts me] out from among the dead [even while in the body].

The place Avira represents the security and safety that is found in being hidden in Christ, part of a city that is not built with the hands of man. The first man to build a city was Cain when he went away from the presence of the Lord (Gen 4:17) and a few generations later, Nimrod built a city before building a tower to reach heaven, as Gen 11:3,4 mentions further back in this post.

Herein is the difference between Atavah and Avira—the former is built by the hands of man in defiance to God to ‘make a name’; in other words to be worshipped, and the latter is built by God. Abraham, the father of faith came out of an idolatrous city, Ur, to go on a faith journey led by the Spirit of God. And in these days we make the same journey, Bride of Christ. We come out of the city and we go on a journey in which we have no knowledge of the way to get there and we must lean on the Spirit every step of the way. We are living stones built into a spiritual house or temple which is filled with the manifest presence of God in the endtimes.

Heb 11:8 By faith Abraham obeyed when he was called to go out into a place which he was afterward going to receive for an inheritance. And he went out, not knowing where he went. Heb 11:9 By faith he lived in the land of promise as a stranger, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs of the same promise with him. Heb 11:10 For he looked for a city which has foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

When I saw Avira on the map, I saw no buildings. In fact, I saw nothing at all, but I heard the voices of people talking about the endtimes. This gives us understanding of the times. The place Avira is not seen with the human eye. It is not a church building or one particular place of safety on the world map. It is a spiritual place, just as Atavah is a spiritual destination. All the choices you make from here on; all the steps you take in the weeks and months ahead will lead all mankind to one destination or the other. The destinations are spiritual death or spiritual life. There is no in-between.

Heb 11:16 But the truth is that they were yearning for and aspiring to a better and more desirable country, that is, a heavenly [one]. For that reason God is not ashamed to be called their God [even to be surnamed their God—the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob], for He has prepared a city for them.

To get to the place Avira, the place of ‘crossing over a line or a boundary’, we have to come out of a city filled with idol worship; a place I believe represents present-day Christian city (see Zech 2:7). We have to go through that city gate and come out and be separate. When we do this, when we begin this journey, we are following in the footsteps of our Bridegroom who came outside the city gate to pay the bridal price for a consecrated, holy Bride.

Heb 13:12 Therefore Jesus also suffered and died outside the [city’s] gate in order that He might purify and consecrate the people through [the shedding of] His own blood and set them apart as holy [for God]. Heb 13:13 Let us then go forth [from all that would prevent us] to Him outside the camp, bearing the contempt and abuse and shame with Him. Heb 13:14 For here we have no permanent city, but we are looking for the one which is to come.

Just as a transgressor bears shame and contempt, we are going to be coming out and being separate from all connected to the building of the Bel tower in this day. Everyone who does not cooperate and submit to the plan for one world government and one world religion which is rolling out will be treated like a pariah and will suffer abuse and contempt. They will be accused and called names, mocked and rejected and punished for their stance. In other words they will be viewed as the transgressors, just like the three Hebrew men who refused to bow their knee to the idol in the book of Daniel. Their only crime was choosing holiness unto the Lord.

2Ti 3:12 Indeed all who delight in piety and are determined to live a devoted and godly life in Christ Jesus will meet with persecution [will be made to suffer because of their religious stand].

We may be called ‘transgressors’ but we are on a journey by the Spirit to a place of safety and security; a place hidden in the One who was counted amongst the transgressors. For we have died and our lives are hidden with Christ in God (Col 3:3) And He is our safety, our strong tower, our refuge, our security.

Reversing Holy Verses

I find it more than interesting that the current pope has announced he will be travelling to the birthplace of Abraham, the city of Ur in Iraq, for an interfaith prayer meeting next week. This deliberate action is an attempt to reverse the creating of a called-out people, separate and holy unto God, and to amalgamate them back into the mixture from which our forefather of faith came out. The intention is to return to a mishmash of every form of worship under one idolatrous banner.

Neh 9:7 You are the Lord, the God Who chose Abram and brought him forth out of Ur of the Chaldees and gave him the name Abraham.

Note how the Hebrew letter Hey was inserted into the middle of the name Abram after he came out of Ur. The breath of God turned infertile Abram into the father of a multitude! On 21st February, the Jews began praying for their 'Messiah' to come and, a week later, interfaith prayer is being held at a very significant location! The site comprises a pyramid-style ziggurat and an adjacent residential complex as well as temples and palaces. Why choose this place? Because it is believed that part of the residential complex was the house of Abraham!

Bride of Christ, the Spirit has journey planned for you that will lead you far away from everything the enemy is planning to do to get the world to worship him. This journey will mean decisions must be made and lines must be crossed and gates must be passed through as you leave all that is currently presented as Christian city. If you remain there, shortly you will be coerced into becoming a 'burnt brick' in Nimrod's wall. The Spirit is calling you out to a place He will show you, a place of safety and security in Christ so strong that in the midst of the most severe shaking, your foundations will stand firm in Christ. But to reach this place, we will have to, like Paul, count all else as loss compared to the priceless privilege of knowing Christ (Php 3:7,8). WE will have to forget what lies behind and press forward towards what lies ahead. Yes, the terrain may seem desert-like as we look at the map now, but remember that the Rock which followed God's people as they traversed the wilderness is the very same Rock in whose cleft we will be hidden. This is the source of the living waters that never run dry.
